PEACEGATE

PEACEGATE is the digital initiative of the IIAM. It is an attempt to facilitate the establishment of peace on a global scale, as it is a fundamental human right for all members of the human family to live a life of dignity and security. It provides individuals with the capacity to resolve disputes through negotiation, mediation, or arbitration, through the customised ODR platform “DigiResolve”. This is the first of its kind attempt to integrate automation and artificial intelligence (AI) into the domain of dispute resolution, making the processes of negotiation, mediation and arbitration accessible to individuals via their smartphones. PeaceGate also integrate IIAM Academy, the online learning platform of IIAM, which provide unique and high quality online techniques

PEACEGATE TIME BANKING

IIAM, in association with Peacegate, is proud to incorporate the concept of Time Banking in its services. The Peacegate Time Banking is a reciprocity-based service system in which hours are credited in the Time Account of the holder. In a time-banking environment, people receive time credits when they provide a service to another member of the time bank (and the member receiving the service is debited an equal amount). Every hour of time is generally valued the same, regardless of the service rendered. And most importantly, the entire Time Bank service is backed-up by a state-of-the-art technology integrated with the Peacegate App.

Peacegate Time Banking provides a means for community self-help, as well as fostering "decency, caring and a passion for justice." Time Banking values the contributions of individuals who offer their time to do various services for the benefit of the community

MEWELL MEDIATOR'S WELLNESS

The IIAM Mediator's Wellness (MEWELL) Program, launched on 4th February 2023 by the Indian Institute of Arbitration and Mediation, is a pioneering initiative that integrates mental well-being with mediation practice. Conceptualized by Iram Majid, the program recognizes that mediators often operate in emotionally intense environments and require psychological resilience. MEWELL aims to address stress, burnout, and emotional fatigue by incorporating elements such as mindfulness, emotional intelligence, and effective communication into the mediation framework, thereby promoting a more holistic and human-centered approach to dispute resolution.

The program is supported by a distinguished international advisory board comprising Justice Madan B. Lokur, Anil Xavier, James Coben, and Geoff Sharp. Through this global collaboration, MEWELL seeks to build a strong support system for mediators, enhance their professional effectiveness, and foster healthier dispute resolution practices. It stands as a significant step toward recognizing the importance of mental wellness in the field of Alternative Dispute Resolution.

PEOPLE'S MEDIATION CENTRE

IIAM Community Mediation Service, with the motto; "Resolving conflicts; promoting harmony", launched in 2009, by the Chief Justice of India, is intended to contribute to the happiness and harmony of the community. The mission is to bring justice to the doorsteps of the people and to empower people to participate in the prevention and early intervention of conflicts as an alternative to institutional mechanisms for a peaceful society

This is endorsed by the IMI, Hague. 66 IIAM establishes People's Mediation Centres (PMCs) in all parts of the country, under the IIAM Community Mediation Service, partnering with People's Mediation Society. Under this concept, when a fixed number of people in a community signs the "Pledge to Mediate", a PMC is opened in such locality, either directly or in partnership with other institutions, organisations etc., which would provide people the space for resolving their conflicts. The mediators for such centres are selected from the community. It is conceived as a genuine people movement, culture of conflict!

SANKALP

"Sankalp" is a unique visionary project of IIAM, founded on the philosophy of humanity. Through this project, IIAM aims to partner with other like-minded institutions and organisations so as to implant the virtues of self-sufficiency and empowerment among the people, so as to restore the seriously depleted social capital and bring in a broadbased social movement to restore civic virtue and civic participation. This is inspired by one of the most passionate missions advocated by Dr. A. P.J. Abdul Kalam (Former President of India), called "P U RA" (Providing Urban Amenities in Rural Areas). The vision of "Sankalp" is a community that is able to unite in order to solve conflicts and overcome challenges. We envision the future as a society where people will "LIVE AND HELP LIVE".
