HON'BLE MR. JUSTICE ASHOK KUMAR JAIN
Order

01/04/2026

1. These three writ petitions were relating to deployment and engagement of vocational trainers in Government Schools of Rajasthan, through vocational training providers (VTP) and implementation of vocationalization of secondary and higher secondary education and vocational training of out of school children in Rajasthan. All three writ petitions were heard on different occasions and now by a common order, we are disposing of these writ petitions.

2. CWP No.12054/2025 Govindram and Ors. Vs. State of Rajasthan and Ors. is lead matter and for ready reference, we are reproducing the prayer:

I. Quash and set aside the letters dated 13-06-2025 to service providers, whereby, informed that agreement entered between provider and council is cancelled due to not service appointed vocational trainer till 20-03-2025 and adopted malafide practices in appointment of vocational trainers.

II. Quash and set aside the letters dated 16-18/06/2025, issued by Additional District Coordinators whereby, agreement entered between service provider and council is cancelled due to not appointed vocational trainer till 20-03-2025 and adopted malafide in of vocational practices appointment trainers as mentioned in letters dated 13-06-2025.

III. The action-omission on the part of respondents in engaging the petitioners and taking the work through placement agency/service providers may be declared arbitrary and accordingly the respondents may be directed to directly engage the petitioners on contractual basis, without any involvement of any placement agency/contractor, and they may be allowed to continue till the regular selections are being made by the respondents, in the interest of justice.

IV. The respondents may kindly be directed to allow the petitioners to continue to work as Vocational Teachers/Trainers at their respective posting palaces, where they are working presently, in the interest of Justice.

V. By an appropriate writ, order and directions respondents be directed to release the salary of petitioners from march 2025 to June 2025.

3. Brief facts of the case are that the petitioners are working as vocational subject trainers under the scheme for the last several years through vocational training providers (VTPs), and now the respondents have cancelled the engagement agreement with VTPs as the VTPs have failed to engage and appoint vocational trainers as per requirements of the respondents. The petitioners, who are working as vocational trainers through different agencies, have filed this petition to protect their rights and livelihood.

4. Learned counsel for the petitioners, while referring guidelines for enrolling quality contractual vocational trainers in schools, has submitted that the respondents are duty-bound to engage vocational trainers directly and not through any VTPs (human service provider agency). He further submitted that as per National Education Policy (NEP) 2020, it is necessary to engage vocational trainers, and the guidelines as referred by the respondents clearly provides for engagement of vocational trainers through VTPs or directly, but in order to benefit the VTPs, the engagements have been made through VTPs. He further submitted that VTPs are even not being paid salaries on monthly or regular basis to the petitioners, and VTPs have adopted unfair labour practices in dealing vocational trainers.
5. Learned counsel has further submitted that many times this issue has been raised before this Hon'ble Court, where employees were engaged through intermediary agencies, and due to exploitation in implementation by the intermediary agencies, the individuals have faced problems of exploitation and issue of non-payment and ultimately payment of their wages. He also submitted that it is settled law that one set of contractual employee cannot be replaced with another set of a contractual employee.
6. Learned counsel has further referred judgment in case of Manish Gupta and others vs. President Jan Bhagidari Samiti reported in 2022, 15 SCC 540, and submitted that an ad-hoc employee cannot be replaced by another ad-hoc employee, and he is entitled to continue till replaced by a regularly selected candidate. He further referred judgment in case of State of Rajasthan vs. Kusum Devi, DB SAW No. 1231/2017 decided on 20.03.2018, passed by a Division Bench of this Hon'ble Court, and submitted that after considering other judgments, the Hon'ble Division Bench has passed an order that a contractual employee, either by contract or through placement agency, would not be replaced by another set of contractual employee. He also submitted that in case of Chairman Army Public School and another versus Anamika Saxena reported in 2021 (1) RLW 227 (RA), a Division Bench of this Hon'ble Court has considered judgment in case of Mohammad Abdul Kadir and Anr. vs DGP, Assam reported in 2009 (6) SCC 611, and submitted that the practice of Army Public School to engage teachers on contractual basis and dispense their service at any time of the term was not considered good, and a direction is made that one set of contractual employee cannot be replaced by another.

7. Learned counsel for petitioner has further placed reliance upon judgment in case of Tony Meghwal and Ors. vs State of Rajasthan (SB CWP No.22128/2019), Radharani vs State of Rajasthan (SB CWP No.7178/2011), Pankaj Kumar and Ors. vs State of Rajasthan (SB CWP No. 953/2017 and DB SAW No.785/2018), Seema Gupta and Ors. vs State of Rajasthan (SB CWP No.10843/2019), Sandeep Thakur vs State of NCT and others (W.P. (C) 7968/2019), Khatija Atulkumar Kika vs State of Gujarat

(C/SC/1340/2017), Anil Kumar Veer vs State of Rajasthan and others (2014 SCC 4774), Deepti Pandey and Ors. vs Union of India and others (SB CWP No.18481/2024), Captain Shailendra Pal Singh vs State of MP (SCP No.23509/2024), Satya Prakash Shahvs vs State of MP (2024: MPHC-JBP:43938), and submitted that it is settled position of law that a contractual employee cannot be replaced with another set of contractual employee whether he is engaged directly or indirectly. He further submitted that in case of Rattanlal vs State of Haryana (1984 (4) SCC 43), Hon'ble Supreme Court has held that there should not be any artificial break during the course of service, which is sufficient to show that the respondents cannot force the petitioners at every change of service provider (VTPs) to enter into a new agreement.

8. Learned counsel for petitioners further submitted that the practice adopted by the respondent is contrary to the policy decision of the Government of India. Learned counsel for petitioners have further submitted that in the neighbouring state of Haryana and other states as well, this scheme is implemented, but all vocational trainers are engaged directly or not indirectly through any VTP. He further submitted that engagement of service providers, agency, and permitting exploitation is contrary to not only scheme but also against the purpose of the scheme. He further submitted that state is considered as model employer, and as a model employer, the state has to set certain parameters, and these parameters should be ideal. He further submitted that they are neither challenging the terms of the scheme nor norms as prescribed by Union of India, so Union of India is not required to be arrayed as a necessary party. He further submitted that scheme is implemented by respondents, hence respondents are duty bound to implement the scheme for the welfare of the people of the State of Rajasthan, as the scheme is for advancement of education to the illiterate masses who require education. At last, he submitted that petitioners have approached this Hon'ble Court to protect their rights and interest as it is affecting their livelihood.

9. Aforesaid contentions were opposed by learned AAG and learned counsel appearing on behalf of respondents. Learned AAG and learned counsel have submitted that the entire educational program is a centrally sponsored scheme funded and administered by Ministry of Education, Government of India, but Union of India is not added as a party, therefore, these writ petitions are not maintainable. He placed reliance upon judgment in case of Mumbai International Airport (P) Limited Vs. Regency Convention Centre and Hotels (P) Ltd., reported in (2010) 7 SCC 417, and State of Assam versus Union of India reported in 2010 10 SCC 408.
10. Learned AAG and learned counsel have also submitted that petitioners have no locus to file writ petition against the respondents, as there is no privity of contract between petitioners and the respondents. He further submitted that petitioners are neither engaged nor employed by the respondents, and the employer of the petitioners are not arrayed as party in the writ petitions, therefore, petitioners have no right to file writ petitions and enforce their rights against the respondents. He further placed reliance upon judgment in case of Binny Ltd. versus Sadashivan reported in 2005 6 SCC 657, and Joshi Technologies International Inc. versus Union of India, reported in (2015) 7 SCC 728. He also submitted that the respondents have terminated the contract of service providers VTPs, and after the termination of contract, petitioners have filed this writ petition to force proxy litigation upon the respondents, and same is not permissible under the law.

11. Learned AAG has also submitted that it is the discretion of the respondents, as per clause 11.17.5 of policy dated 12.10.2022, to directly engage trainers or through VTPs. He further submitted that the petitioners have not challenged the policy; therefore, they cannot seek any direction against the respondents to engage them directly when they are working through service providers. He further referred judgment in case of Delhi Science Forum Vs. Union of India, reported in 1996 2 SCC 405, and Ugar Sugar Workd Ltd. versus Delhi Administration reported in (2001) 3 SCC 365, and submitted that normally the court, in their power of judicial review, do not interfere with the policy decision of the executive unless it is established that there is unreasonableness and arbitrariness on part of the respondents. He further submitted that the engagement was contractual and co-terminous with contractors through agreement; therefore, the petitioners have no right to file the writ petitions against the respondents, and they cannot seek any relief against the respondents.

12. Learned AAG has referred the provisions of RTTP Act and rules made therein and submitted that the respondents have followed a transparent and fair procedure as prescribed to engage contractual, and judicial review in tender matters is highly impermissible. He further submitted that the petitioners have no right to block tender or deployment of new VTPs. He further submitted that the petitioners can enforce their right against the VTP, but not against the respondents, and if the petitioners are engaged by VTPs, then the liability to make payment of salary is upon VTPs and not on respondents. He further submitted that the court cannot direct for creation of posts or restructuring of schemes in light of judgment in case of PU Joshi Vs. Accountant General reported in (2003) 2 SCC 632. At last, he submitted that the petitioners, if aggrieved from terms of the scheme or implementation of scheme, may file PIL to challenge the terms of the scheme.
13. Heard learned counsel for the parties and learned AAG. Perused the material placed on record, also considered the judgments as referred by learned counsel for the parties during the course of argument.
14. The first objection of learned AAG is that petitioners have not made Union of India as party respondent, and for this purpose, he placed reliance upon judgment in case of Mumbai International Airport (P) Limited Vs. Regency Convention Centre and Hotels (P) Ltd. (supra), and

State of Assam versus Union of India (supra). The second objection is that petitioners have no locus to file the writ petition, as they were not engaged by the respondents, rather they were engaged by VTP's (contractor).

15. Learned AAG has placed reliance upon judgment in case of Binny Ltd. versus Sadashivan (supra), and Joshi Technologies International Inc. versus Union of India (supra). A perusal of writ petitions clearly indicate that petitioners have specifically mentioned that the respondents are implementing a centrally sponsored scheme of Union of India, in particular Human Resource Department (now Education Department). The petitioners have placed reliance upon terms of the scheme, and they have not challenged any term or condition of the scheme. The petitioners have only raised issue regarding engagement of petitioners through VTPs and selection of VTPs by the respondents. It is very clear from the material on record that neither the scheme nor the terms of scheme were challenged by the petitioners. The petitioners have not sought any relief against Union of India. The issue raised herein is regarding implementation of Scheme in accordance with guidelines of Govt. of India.

16. A necessary party is indispensable, meaning thereby, in the absence of such party, the Court cannot pass a mechanical and foreseeable order, as the right and interest of such party are directly and vitally affected from the order passed by the Court. A proper party is not essential to the core of relief, but adds a complete result to all involved issues. The impleadment of such party facilitates a comprehensive adjudication of the dispute.

17. In case of Udit Narain Singh Malpaharia vs Additional Member, Board Of Revenue, Bihar reported in AIR 1963 SC 786, and Prabodh Verma v. State of Uttar Pradesh, reported in (1984) 4 SCC 251, the emphasis was on complete adjudication of dispute and impleadment of parties directly interested in the matter. In case of Poonam vs State of UP reported in (2016) 2 SCC 779, non-joinder of necessary party was considered vital to the case. In said case, a termination order was challenged, wherein it was held that it is not necessary to implead a person appointed in place of terminated person, as subsequent appointee is not a necessary party.
18. In case of Mumbai International Airport (P) Limited Vs. Regency Convention Centre and Hotels (P) Ltd. (supra), Hon'ble Supreme Court has considered the issue of necessary party and held that if necessary party is not impleaded, the suit itself is liable to be dismissed. A proper party is a party who, though not a necessary party, is present, whose presence would enable the Court to completely, effectively, and adequately adjudicate upon all matters in dispute.
19. In case of State of Assam vs Union of India (supra), placing reliance upon judgment in case of Udit Narain Singh Malpaharia vs Additional Member, Board Of Revenue, Bihar (supra), it was held that in absence of necessary party, no order can be made effectively, and in absence of proper party, an effective order cannot be made, but presence is necessary for complete and final adjudication.

20. Having considered the legal position with regard to the necessary and proper party, when we consider the case of petitioners, then it is apparent that the petitioners have not raised any dispute about terms of the scheme and they have not sought any relief against Union of India. Neither of the conditions of the scheme or guideline about the implementation were challenged by the petitioners; therefore, the Union of India is neither a necessary party nor a proper party. The objection raised by learned AAG is not tenable.
21. The material on record or facts as placed on record clearly indicate that the petitioners were engaged through VTPs (service provider or contractors), but they are discharging services with respondents under a scheme. The scheme as placed on record indicates that in the National Education Policy 2020 (NEP-2020), the Government of India has focused upon vocational education to the students by giving them vocational exposures at earliest ages at the stage of middle and secondary school, with stress upon quality vocational education. The policy document realized a fact that vocational education is perceived to be unfair to mainstream education and meant largely for students who are unable to get with later. This is the perception that affects choices of the students make. Setting a target for 2025, it was mentioned that at least 50% of learners from the school and higher education systems shall have exposure to vocational education, for which a scheme, action plan for targets and timelines will be developed. This is in alignment with sustainable development goal (SDG) 4.4 and will help to realize full potential India demographic dividend, and vocational education will be integrated into all schools and higher education institutions in a phase manner over the next decades.

22. Pursuant to the recommendations of NEP 2020, Samagra Shiksha Scheme was redesigned and realigned. A letter dated 12.10.2022 by the Ministry of Education, Department of School Education and Literacy, Government of India, was sent with updated version of framework for implementation of Samagra Shiksha Scheme to deliver quality education to pre-primary to secondary schools.
23. The focus of the Union of India is upon providing quality vocational education in all schools at early stages so as to overcome the social stigma. The scheme document suggests that scheme will be implemented in the schools by the State/UTs Government through the respective Department of School Education or Board of Secondary Education. At the State level, School Education Board, SCERT, State Government schools and Government aided schools are key stakeholders, whereas District Institute of Education and Training (DIET) is at district level. Thus, the respondents are only implementing agencies, and they are being guided by the policy document as prepared by the Government of India. We are also confining ourselves to the policy of the Government of India, and we are not going beyond policy as prepared by the Government of India.

24. Before referring the implementation part, we are referring to letter dated 24.03.2017 issued by Ministry of Human Resource Development, Department of School Education and Literacy, about guidelines for enlisting quality educational vocational trainers in the school. These guidelines were issued after a meeting held on 10.03.2016. These guidelines are required to be considered while engaging vocational teachers/trainers. These guidelines suggest engagement of vocational trainers, selection procedure, and capacity building of vocational trainers. The stress is on selection of good and competent vocational trainers having domain specific knowledge of the relevant subject. The guideline permits direct engagement or appointment through VTPs, but in case of appointment through VTPs, selection may be tender based and the procedure by a committee having representative of both the State Government and VTPs.
25. The guidelines also suggest that VTPs should have been accredited at NQAF Grade-II or higher. In neighbouring State, Haryana, initially vocational trainers were engaged through VTPs, but later, taking a lead in development and acting as a model employer, the Government of Haryana has decided to continue their service directly and further enhance their monthly honorarium. The engagement document clearly indicates that Haryana Kaushal Rozgar Nigam Limited (HKRNL) is involved in the procedure, and engagement has been made through HKRNL and further benefits were also provided to these vocational trainers.

26. The respondents have placed reliance upon condition number 11.17 of point 5 of the policy document. Clause 11.17 of policy document, along with letter dated 12.10.2022, relates to faculty and staff, and 11.17.5 provides for recruitment of vocational teachers/trainers. Before this, 11.17.3 provides for engagement, and we are referring to 11.17.3 and 11.17.5 in following paragraphs:

"11.17.3 Teachers are critical factors for bringing about necessary qualitative changes in VET. Quality research and dissemination to increase understanding of pedagogical, technical and managerial aspects of flexible learning is needed. Vocational courses will be conducted with the help of Teachers/Skill Trainers as well as guest faculty on a need basis. Teachers/Skill Trainers with such qualifications and experience as laid down by the PSSCIVE for each cluster of vocational courses may be engaged. State and UTs have the flexibility to engage the Vocation Trainers directly or through the vocational Training providers (VTPS) accredited by NCVET. The States will have to ensure that teachers, trainers are selected well in advance before the commencement of the academic session. States/UTs may consider engaging with Vocational Training Providers (VTPs) Vocational trainers for a minimum period of two years through the appropriate Memorandum of Understanding (MoU), after following the due procedure.

11.17.5 The Vocational Teachers/Trainers may be recruited through the VTPs but they report to the school for the complete academic year, just like all other teachers. The VTs are not just involved in organising learning experiences in the school, but also providing necessary support in developing linkages with the industry and organising activities outside the school. The Teachers/Skill Trainers will impart knowledge of both the theory and practical. The performance appraisal of Teachers/Skill trainers shall be conducted at the end of each academic session and their further retention shall be linked to the delivery of quality output."

27. Aforesaid 11.17.3 indicates that teachers and skilled trainers, as well as guest faculty, can be engaged on need basis. The qualification and experience as laid down by PSSCIVE for each cluster of vocational courses has to be taken care of. The State and UT were given flexibility to engage vocational trainers directly or through VTPs (accredited by NCVET). The State has to ensure that teachers/trainers are selected well in advance from the commencement of the academic session. The engagement of vocational trainers or VTPs are required for minimum period of two years through appropriate MOU after following the procedure.

28. The facts narrated hereinabove clearly indicate the respondents have discretion either to engage vocational trainers/teachers through a VTP or directly. It is not mandatory for the respondents to engage any vocational trainer/teacher through a service provider (VTP). The service provider is not required to be engaged by the respondents. The respondents are not under any obligation to follow the RTTP Act or rules made therein in direct engagement of any of the vocational trainer/teacher to implement the policy as laid down by Government of India.

29. In case of Manish Gupta and others vs. President Jan Bhagidari Samiti (supra), Hon'ble Supreme Court has laid down that one set of contractual employee cannot be replaced by another set, and this judgment has been followed by a Division Bench of this Court in case of State of Rajasthan vs Ram Chaturvedi while deciding engagement of guest faculty in Vidya Sambhal scheme.
30. Similarly, in case of Mohammad Abdul Kadir and Anr. vs DGP, Assam (supra) and Rattanlal vs State of Haryana (supra), Hon'ble Supreme Court has laid down that there should not be artificial break of service of such contractual employees. The Division Bench of this Court in case of State of Rajasthan vs Kusum Devi (supra), has clearly laid down that one set of contractual employee cannot be replaced by another set of employee.
31. In case of Tony Meghwal (supra), Radha Rani (supra), Pankaj Kumar (supra), Seema Gupta (supra), Atul Kumar (supra), Anil Kumar (supra), Deepti Pandey (supra), and many more judgments, this Court has laid down that a set of contractual employee, whether engaged directly or indirectly, if serving and engaged by the State or instrumentality of State, then their services should not be replaced by another set of contractual employee unless the service is replaced by a regularly selected candidate.

32. In case of Army Public School vs Anamika Saxena, (supra), a Division Bench of this Court has considered case of a teacher whose services were discontinued after every year and a fresh engagement process is initiated, but deprecating the practice, it was held that one set of contractual employee cannot be replaced by another. Same analogy is adopted by other High Courts such as Madhya Pradesh and Delhi, as referred and relied by learned counsel for the petitioners. If a person is engaged in a contractual manner and he is serving, then his services cannot be replaced with another set of contractual employee. If a service provider is changed and the manpower remains the same, then it is sufficient to draw a conclusion that the agreement is sham or nominal. If any person is engaged through a contractor, then he has no right to bind the principal employer, but when he acts under control and supervision of the principal employer, then the Court has to consider the relationship between the principal employer and the employee. The principal employer is always responsible for payment to the workforce engaged directly or indirectly.
33. Here, in this case, the scheme of engaging vocational trainer/teacher provides a discretion to the respondents to engage vocational trainer/teacher on contractual basis, indirect or direct manner. We agree with the proposition as advanced by the learned AAG that the Court should not interfere in the policy decision in implementing the scheme.

34. In case of Binny Ltd. versus Sadashivan (supra), and Joshi Technologies International Inc. versus Union of India (supra), the issue relates to private contract and not involving any State instrumentality. The facts in case of Binny Ltd. versus Sadashivan (supra) and Joshi Technologies International Inc. versus Union of India (supra), are different than present one; therefore, both the judgments are not applicable upon the facts of instant case.
35. The petitioners are serving under the Government scheme, and the scheme is subject to guidelines issued by the Union of India. The petitioners are engaged to implement the scheme have acquired a right as soon as they were engaged, therefore, petitioners have right to challenge the decision of the respondents when their services are terminated with the termination of contract of the VTPs.
36. The petitioners have a rightful claim to maintain a writ petition for interference in their rights to continue, which have been acquired while serving in Government scheme till the scheme is continued and have right to resist when same set of contractual employees are replaced by another set of contractual employees through another contractor (VTPs).
37. The legal position as mentioned herein above clearly indicates that one set of contractual employee cannot be replaced with another set of contractual employee. In case when a contractual employee is engaged through a service provider, then after every year engaging another service provider will increase the risk of exploitation of workforce, and threat to discontinue their services. A new contractor

(VTP) may discontinue the services of petitioners. A contractor may engage a human resource upon his terms and conditions of engagement. In such circumstances, no law permits discontinuing of employee after end of every year. Such discretion is an abuse of authority by the respondents. Thus, the petitioners are before this Court to seek remedy to enforce and protect the right of their livelihood.

38. The change of service provider VTPs, either following RTTP or rules at the end of every year, will increase the risk of exploitation of the petitioners. Thus, a petitioner has a right to approach this Court while invoking constitutional remedy under Article 226 of the Constitution of India, and that is only remedy provided under the law to enforce the legal and constitutional rights of the petitioners.
39. Lack of job security and also non-compliance of social security norms are very much prevalent in workforce engagement through a service provider. There is always a risk of exploitation, reduction in wages, and untimely payment. This Court, while considering identical issue in cases of Tony Meghwal (supra) and Radha Rani (supra), has highlighted this fact and directed for direct engagement. The continuity of a contractual employee can only be maintained when a workforce is directly engaged. Similarly, the principle of non-replacement of contractual employees by another set of contractual employees can only be implemented if the engagement is made directly.

40. These petitioners have a right to approach this Court, and this is not a challenge to the policy, rather it is a challenge to mode of engagement. Learned AAG has also objected that by the current litigation, on the ground that the petitioners are protecting the interest of VTPs and it is a proxy litigation on behalf of VTPs. The engagement may be direct or indirect, but engagement policy has to be consistent. A neighbouring State, Haryana is an example, where the persons engaged through VTPs were continued, and engaged directly. Now, they were paid directly by the State Government. This clearly indicate that policy in question can be implemented by direct engagement of individuals. The engagement is always subject to condition of scheme. If the scheme is discontinued by the Government of India, obviously the engagement (may wither direct or indirect) will also be discontinued by the Govt. of India. The respondents are under no obligation to continue the services when the scheme is discontinued by the Govt. of India. Similarly, the selection process is stringent, though nothing is placed on record by the respondents to show that the petitioners were selected through a process as referred herein above. It means that only a contractor was selected as per norms of the tender and everything is left upon whims of the contractor (VTPs). The implementation of the scheme is not in accordance with the object of the scheme. This litigation may not be treated as a process of stalling tender process. The respondents may engage trainers directly as per norms and continue their services till scheme is in force.

41. The State of Haryana has chosen a State-controlled organization HKRNL, therefore the State of Rajasthan can also adopt the same. It will not only be beneficial to the petitioners, but it will also help in effective implementation of NEP 2020. Thus, the objections raised by learned AAG have no force. The petitioners were engaged through VTPs, but termination of contract of VTPs has resulted into termination of services of petitioners, as it is co-terminous with principal contractor. The tender document dated 07.08.2024 and annexures indicate that the estimated cost of engagement is ₹130.06 crores, meaning thereby substantial amount has been allocated under the scheme for engagement of vocational trainers, but the selection process does not indicate that the guidelines as mentioned herein above were followed at the time of selection of vocational trainers/teachers, in State of Rajasthan.

42. It is apparent on record that respondents have not followed the guidelines and terms of the scheme, and now they are claiming that they are free to implement the scheme in their own way. When respondents are implementing the scheme, as part of NEP 2020, a standardized procedure is required to be adopted, but same is not part of the reply submitted by the respondents.

43. The engagement process and the arguments advanced before the Court clearly indicate that respondents are casual in implementing the scheme and they are not serious in implementation of scheme. The policy document issued by the Government of India is required to be followed in letter and spirit, and at least minimum standards prescribed by the Government of India are required to be taken care of. If the respondents are not able to upscale the engagement process, then at least they must follow practice adopted by the neighbouring State. In the instant case, it is not necessary for the respondents to engage through VTPs and issue a tender for selection of VTP, to engage vocational trainers. The services of the petitioners cannot be replaced by another set of employee, whether engaged directly or indirectly.

44. One of the issue, which we have already considered is that the petitioners have no right to claim regularization on any count, as their engagement is contractual in nature. If the scheme is withdrawn or closed by the Government of India, the services cannot be continued by the State Government unless the State decides to continue the scheme, and same is a policy decision wherein Court cannot direct for continuing the scheme. If the scheme is withdrawn, though this is not a case as on today, but till scheme is continued, petitioners have right to restrain respondents from replacing their services through another set of contractual employees.
45. In case contract between service provider (VTP) and the respondents has been terminated, then the option left before the respondents is to engage of petitioners directly through a contract. The respondents may evolve a procedure either engaging themselves or through a Government Corporation, established for skill development in the State. The policy decision, in this regard can be taken by the State Government. This Court is not inclined to intervene in the matter of contract between VTPs and respondents but at the same time, if does not intervene to protect the livelihood of petitioners then with the termination of contract of VTPs, the services of petitioners will come to an end, and as a result, the services will be replaced with another set of contractual employees engaged through another VTPs, selected through a tender process. This situation is sufficient to invoke jurisdiction under Article 226 of the Constitution of India.

46. Considering aforesaid, this is necessary to balance the equities, therefore, the respondents are at liberty to examine each case of the petitioners, in particular about their qualification, and may adopt a process of examining the qualifications of the petitioners whether they are having the qualifications as prescribed under the guidelines, before entering into a direct engagement. If anyone is not possessing the requisite qualification, the respondents are free to terminate his services and not required to carry on a non-qualified person, but if somebody is qualified, then he should not be permitted to be exploited by any contractor or service provider. The respondents are duty bound to show and project themselves as a model employer. Thus, the circumstances of the case clearly indicate that it is an ideal case where the Court should balance the equities and intervene to protect the rights of the petitioners.
47. In view of the discussion made herein above, these petitions are allowed in the following manner:

(i). The respondents are directed to engage petitioners, vocational trainers/teachers, directly on contractual basis as per guideline dated 12.10.2022. The respondents are refrained from engaging petitioners through any VTPs.

(ii). The termination of services of petitioners, who were engaged through service provider (VTPs), after termination of agreement with VTPs, is hereby quashed and set aside, and respondents are directed to engage petitioners subject to scrutiny of their qualifications as prescribed in the guidelines, directly in a contractual capacity.

(iii). The respondents are directed to pay the honorarium directly to the petitioners through bank transfer mechanism.

(iv). The engagement of petitioners shall be subject to terms and conditions of the scheme, and they will terminate as soon as the scheme is closed or changed by the Government of India.

(v). The services of petitioners shall not be replaced with another set of contractual employees till force of the scheme.

(vi). The respondents are directed to frame specific guidelines/rules for governance of these petitioners, if the engagement contract provides so.

(vii). The respondents are free to get engagement through a skill development corporation of the State of Rajasthan.

48. Accordingly, the writ petitions along with miscellaneous applications, if any, stand disposed of.
