ABOUT THE CENTRE

The Centre for Research in Environmental Law (CREL) is an endeavour of the Dharmashastra National Law University (DNLU), Jabalpur, M.P., India to respond to the need for legal scholarship and research in the areas of environmental law. The Centre strives to promote outstanding research in Environmental Law. In lieu of this, CREL through its various initiatives, programmes and platform provides an opportunity for all the legal and social science fraternity and environment enthusiasts to share their experiences and opinion on contemporary issues of Environmental concern.

ABOUT THE NEWSLETTER

Our Newsletter "Paryarth" covers all the substantial developments in the area of environmental law which includes the regulatory framework, recent judicial decisions, and developments in the national and international environmental legal regime. The creative section of the newsletter includes poems, posters and research articles contributed by the students of DNLU. The aim and purpose of this newsletter is to share environmental information and to develop environmental consciousness.

ABOUT THEME

In the quest for a sustainable future, few challenges loom larger than the effective management of waste. As our global population continues to surge, so too does the volume of waste we generate. It is imperative that we find innovative and informed approaches to tackle this burgeoning issue. The theme, "Navigating Waste Management for A Sustainable Future," invites thoughtful exploration and discussion on the strategies, technologies, and community-driven initiatives that hold the potential to reshape our waste landscape. This call for blogs seeks to shed light on the critical role waste management plays in achieving broader sustainability goals.
