

To,
The Members of the Search-cum-Selection Committee,
Constituted under Section 17(1)(iii) of NALSAR Act, 1998.

Subject: Request to consider Prof. Faizan Mustafa for re-appointment as the Vice Chancellor of NALSAR University of Law, Hyderabad

Respected Prof. (Dr.) S.P. Gautam, Prof. (Dr.) Upendra Baxi, and Prof. (Dr.) Gurmeet Singh,

We, the undersigned, are students from NALSAR University of Law, Hyderabad. We are writing with the hope that Prof. Faizan Mustafa will be considered for re-appointment as the Vice Chancellor of our University. Our understanding is that Section 17(iv) of the NALSAR Act, 1998 permits the re-appointment of the Vice Chancellor for multiple terms. We have also collectively approached Prof. Mustafa, requesting him to submit an 'Indication of Interest' for this position, as per the advertisement issued by the Search Committee on April 12, 2022.

Under Prof. Mustafa's leadership over the last ten years, the University has grown incrementally both in terms of its academic offerings and overall reputation. We believe that it is in the best interests of the University to ensure administrative continuity at this point of time. At present, we are transitioning back to regular academic activities after the pandemic-induced shift towards online education over the last two years. In such an uncertain time, the institution will benefit from stability in its leadership, even as we collectively prepare to navigate a post-pandemic future.

Since taking over in April 2012, Prof. Mustafa has overseen a doubling of the full-time faculty members, increasing the same from 28 in April 2012 to a strength of 56 by April 2022. The institution has developed a vibrant choice-based credit system (CBCS) where nearly 40% of the coursework in the undergraduate and postgraduate courses is based on the preferences of students. NALSAR has been a leader amongst Indian law-schools when it comes to diversifying the curriculum, both in terms of inter-disciplinary offerings and visiting courses taught by external resource-persons. For instance, we have been hosting 18-20 visiting elective courses in each academic year, apart from 35-40 optional courses offered by regular faculty members. These are in addition to the courses required by the regulatory bodies.

Further, NALSAR was among the first movers in adopting the One-Year LL.M. programme in the academic year 2013-14 and has been constantly improving it in light of learning from student feedback and international networks. NALSAR has been consistently investing resources in its Ph.D. programme which has led to a significant rise in the pool of applicants and the delivery of intensive coursework. For instance, there were more than 300 applicants for the Ph.D. programmes in Law, Social Sciences, and Management Studies taken together for the 2021-22 intake. The University had started offering a 2-year MBA program in 2013-14, which has allowed the institution to develop deeper relationships with entrepreneurial activities, especially in Telangana. The Department of Management Studies has now carved out an identity of its own, and recently introduced a 5-year Integrated Program for Management (IPM), which has received a healthy response in terms of applications. The development of the IPM programme will enable NALSAR to comply with the National Education Policy (NEP)'s directive that mono-disciplinary institutions must grow into multi-disciplinary institutions. There are also plans to expand course offerings in areas such as public policy and socio-legal studies.

In 2016, NALSAR was awarded the 'A++' Grade by the National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC) with a score of 3.60 out of 4.00, which is still the highest among the NLUs. The University has been ranked 3 in the Law category for 2018, 2019, 2020, and 2021 as per the NIRF rankings published by the Ministry of Education, Government of India.

The University has a spacious library which has been enhanced through considerable investments of nearly Rupees 6.5 crores in digital resources, especially during the pandemic. This allows faculty members, students and researchers to remotely access a broad range of academic resources from their respective locations. Needless to say, the COVID-19 pandemic raised a number of unprecedented challenges. The University was able to ensure that there was no adverse impact on the academic schedule, with customised solutions for students facing unique difficulties. At the height of the pandemic, students facing internet access issues at their homes were sent recorded classes in pen-drives on a weekly basis. To ensure that no student was disadvantaged, those without laptops were provided the same free of charge, and charges for data packs were covered by the University. A continuous evaluation pattern was set up to suit the new online mode of education. These policies ensured that unequal access to the internet did not come in the way of the students' education. Given the sensitivity and responsiveness with which Prof. Faizan Mustafa has made decisions through these difficult times, we believe that he is best suited to lead the institution as it returns to normalcy. In a forward-looking move, he has already started putting in place the infrastructure for hybrid learning, which will enable us to expand the reach of our distance and online programs, apart from better responding to the needs of students who face difficulties due to disabilities or severe illnesses.

In our experience, Prof. Mustafa has also run the institution in a participatory and equitable manner. He has been consultative and open to receiving suggestions from all quarters and has maintained a high level of transparency by regularly holding faculty meetings as well as open-house meetings with students and non-teaching staff. The student-elected committees have been given considerable autonomy and financial support to pursue their respective activities. In consultation with students, the University has overhauled the Hostel and Library rules, considerably liberalising the use of campus spaces and resources. Students were also consulted while drafting a policy on the use of CCTV cameras on campus, and due regard was given to concerns about their safety and privacy.

Prof. Mustafa has encouraged faculty and students alike to invite distinguished guest speakers ranging from academics, legal practitioners, judges, civil servants, journalists, activists, and experts from other domains. This has helped foster an atmosphere of rich intellectual discourse, with the 'NALSAR University of Law' YouTube Channel becoming a public repository of knowledge and expertise hosting more than 500 videos of lectures, workshops, and conferences. As students who have benefitted from this stimulating intellectual climate, we would wish all the current and future stakeholders to reap the fruits of the same as well.

Over the last decade, Prof. Mustafa has tried to deepen the range and effectiveness of the faculty members. Several younger faculty members have been recruited to permanent positions based on their cross-jurisdictional qualifications and potential for excellence in teaching and research. Experienced faculty members have had the full freedom to initiate new research projects, public education programs, and course-offerings, thereby significantly expanding the University's reach, especially through distance and online education.

In addition to attending to his administrative duties, Prof. Mustafa has become a prominent voice disseminating knowledge about the legal system to the general public. Apart from regularly writing columns in several national newspapers and speaking on television, he runs the ‘Legal Awareness Web Series’ YouTube channel which has become immensely popular over the last 6 years. His growing public profile has also benefitted the institution in numerous ways. Over the course of his academic career, he has authored several books and peer-reviewed articles, with his work being cited in two Supreme Court judgments so far.

Prof. Mustafa has also managed the finances and resources of the University with prudence. For instance, the gradual enhancement of the intake in the B.A., L.L.B. program and the initiation of the MBA and IPM programs, have allowed the University to improve its overall financial health, while retaining its autonomy. From facing a deficit of Rs. 12 crores in 2012-13, the University has accumulated savings of nearly Rs. 87 crores by 2021-22. The annual recurring grants received from the Government of Telangana have increased from Rs. 2.5 crores in 2012-13 to 4.5 crores in 2014-15 and recently to a much higher amount of Rs. 24 crores during 2020-21 and 2021-2022 respectively. These enhanced grants have been used for improving the physical infrastructure on campus. The amount awarded as annual scholarships to students in need has also reached Rs. 1 crores in the present academic year. It is noteworthy that the construction of two new hostel blocks and extensions to the dining hall were recently completed despite the pandemic. Even though we presently have approximately 850 students enrolled in our full-time programmes, the campus is now ready to accommodate up to 1,400 students, thereby paving the path for gradual expansion over the next few years.

In light of the reasons outlined above, we collectively urge you to consider Prof. Faizan Mustafa for re-appointment as the Vice Chancellor of NALSAR. In our minds, he has been a pragmatic and popular administrator, who has the confidence of a majority of current students. We sincerely hope that our representation will be given fair consideration.

Yours faithfully,
